

NO DANGER OF WAR

The Dispute Between Russia and Great Britain Over North Sea Affair Settled.

REFERRED TO A COMMISSION.

That Part of the Fleet Concerned in the Incident Ordered to Be Held at Vigo.

Any Person Found Guilty Will Be Tried and Punished Adequately—Liberal Compensation to Be Paid Victims' Families.

London, Oct. 29.—All danger of war between Russia and Great Britain has been averted and the settlement of the only points in dispute regarding the attack by the Russian second Pacific squadron on British trawlers October 21 has been referred to international commission under The Hague convention.

Premier Balfour, speaking at a meeting of the National Union Conservative clubs at Southampton Friday night, broke that silence which had been so long preserved and had brought the people of the United Kingdom to a condition of almost desperate irritation and given rise to misconceptions which Mr. Balfour Friday night himself exposed. "The Russian ambassador," said Mr. Balfour, "has authorized a statement to the following effect: The Russian government, on hearing of the North Sea incident, at once expressed its profound regret and also promised most liberal compensation. The government has ordered the detention at Vigo of that part of the fleet which was concerned in the incident, in order that the naval authorities might ascertain what officers and any material witnesses would not proceed on the voyage to the far east; that inquiry would be instituted into the facts by an international commission as provided by The Hague convention. That Mr. Balfour interpolated, had nothing to do with arbitration; it was the constitution of an international commission in order to find out the facts and any person found guilty would be tried and punished adequately. The Russian government undertook that precautions would be taken to guard against recurrence of such incidents. Special instructions on this subject would be issued."

Preliminary to this court, said Mr. Balfour, there would be the coroner's inquest at Hull over the dead fishermen, a board of trade inquiry and an inquiry by Russian officials at Vigo. The board of trade inquiry would be specially constituted by the British government to include representative men.

The Russian embassy had been asked to send a representative and give assistance. Apology and compensation having already been offered, nothing new remains but to determine which account is correct, Rojstvensky's or the trawlers. Mr. Balfour plainly said that Thursday evening Russia and Great Britain seemed to be on the brink of war and yet gave the frankest praise to the attitude preserved throughout by the emperor and Russian government. While the premier was unable to praise the pacific attitude of the government too highly, he bitterly assailed Rojstvensky's report, declaring that it was an insult to Great Britain as a neutral nation and ridiculed its probability.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 29.—It develops that quite independently Russia and Great Britain offered each other the same solution of the North Sea incident. Thursday night instructions were telegraphed to Ambassador Benckendorff in London to propose an international inquiry to the British government and Friday morning Ambassador Hardinge, who had received almost similar instructions during the night, submitted a proposal for a commission to Foreign Minister Lamsdorff.

JAPS ORDERED HOME.

All Belonging to the First and Second Army Reserves in United States.

Cheyenne, Wyo., Oct. 29.—G. Kakimoto, who is in charge of hundreds of Japanese employed as section men and in other capacities on the Union Pacific railroad, has been notified by the Japanese consul to return home at once for active service. Mr. Kakimoto says that over 50 members of the two reserves are located in Colorado, over 600 in Utah and about 500 on the railroads in Wyoming.

Burgin, Ky., Oct. 29.—An argument concerning a horse and buggy resulted in a general fight here, in which John Ison, a prominent liveryman of this place, shot and probably fatally wounded Henry Eads, a young farmer.

A FILIPINO STUDENT.

He Was Not Allowed to Register in New Haven, Ct.

New Haven, Ct., Oct. 29.—The registrars of voters here Friday twice refused to admit to suffrage J. E. Lagdameo, a Filipino student at the Yale forestry school. When asked for the reason for their refusal, the registrars said that as Lagdameo was not native born it was necessary for him to become naturalized before he could vote. Lagdameo claimed that as the United States owns the Philippines he was a citizen of this country. Assistant Attorney General Robb, in Washington, was called up by telephone and made the reply: "The supreme court of the United States has held that a Filipino is not a citizen of the United States. Therefore, if the law of Connecticut requires a voter to be a citizen, he must be naturalized."

SITUATION AT PORT ARTHUR.

It Is Reported to Be Growing Daily More Difficult.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 29.—Alarmist reports from foreign sources of the alleged critical situation of the Port Arthur garrison and of a renewal of the Japanese attack upon that stronghold have created considerable popular anxiety here over the fate of the fortress. The government simply states that it is without direct advices, though it realizes that the situation in the fortress must be growing daily more difficult. However, it maintains the firm belief that the garrison will be able to hold out. The statement that Gen. Stoessel is scornful of all question of surrender is declared here to be simply what might be expected. He is considered to be a man who will fight as long as there is a finger in Port Arthur to pull a trigger.

SHARP FIGHTING.

The Russians Captured Waitaoshan Last Thursday.

Tokio, Oct. 29.—A press telegram from Gen. Kuroki's headquarters reports that on Thursday the Japanese captured Waitaoshan after sharp fighting. The attack began at 8 o'clock in the morning and ended at 4 o'clock in the afternoon, the Russians retreating. The Japanese captured two machine guns. The Russian casualties are estimated at 200 and those of the Japanese 170. The Russians occupied Waitaoshan on the 14th instant with eight companies and began constructing defenses. The Russians retreated across the Shakhe river.

CLUBHOUSE RAIDED.

Bartender Arrested and Liquors Seized and Confiscated.

Washington, Oct. 29.—The Chevy Chase club, devoted to country sports and located in Montgomery county, Maryland, across the District line, where local option is in force, was raided by the sheriff of Montgomery county Friday, several hundred dollars worth of liquors seized and the bartender placed under arrest. The latter was promptly released, but the liquors were confiscated. The club is made up largely of well-known society people of Washington, including members of the diplomatic corps, supreme court and congress.

GOV. NASH IS DEAD.

Expired Suddenly in Bath Room of His Son-in-Law's Home at Columbus, O.

SUCCUMBED TO HEART DISEASE.

The Funeral Will Be Held Next Monday Afternoon at the Broad Street Presbyterian Church.

His Death Leaves Foraker and Campbell the Only Surviving Ex-Governors of Ohio, Hoadly, Foster and Bushnell Dying Recently.

Columbus, O., Oct. 29.—Ex-Gov. Geo. Kilbom Nash was, shortly before noon Friday, discovered dead in his bath room. Before he started to take his bath, he did not seem to be unusually weak and there was no intimation of the sudden end. As is generally known, he has several times been declared near death, but had regained strength and displayed vitality which surprised his doctors. The end was not only sudden, but peaceful, his heart seeming to have suddenly stopped short, painless death ensuing.

The governor was in the bath room at the residence of his son-in-law Worthington E. Babcock. He was alone at the time and the sound of a heavy fall called several members of the household to the bath room, where he was found on the floor unconscious and to all appearances dead. His physician was sent for but life was extinct when he arrived.

The ex-governor had been in precarious health since the launching of the Ohio, having suffered his first attack in Colorado on his return from the coast. After retiring from the executive office he resumed the practice of law, but could do little active work. In the last four months he had been rarely at his law office. A week ago Thursday he went to the State university to attend a meeting of the board of trustees, of which he was a member. That was the last active work he did. While both the patient and his family knew that death might come at any time, there was no special reason to expect it at this time. He seemed no worse than usual during the forenoon.

The funeral will be held next Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Broad Street Presbyterian church, Rev. S. S. P. Palmer officiating. The services will be public. The burial at Green Lawn cemetery will be private. Gov. Herrick Friday night issued a proclamation in which he pays a high tribute to the life, character and public services of former Gov. Nash and directs that as a mark of respect the flag on the state capitol be floated at half-mast until after the obsequies.

Cincinnati, Oct. 29.—The death of Nash leaves Foraker and Campbell as the only surviving ex-governors of Ohio, Hoadly, Foster and Bushnell having died recently. The defeated candidates during the past two decades in the order named still survive, John W. Bookwalter, Thomas E. Powell, Lawrence T. Neal, Horace L. Chapman, John R. McLean, James Kilburne and Tom L. Johnson.

Memorial Hall for Cincinnati.

The building will be erected jointly by the civil war veterans and the state. The last Ohio legislature made a liberal appropriation for the structure. The hall will be used as a museum for the preservation of relics of the war between the states.

Strange Coincidence in the Death of Chairman Hager's Parents.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 29.—Mrs. William R. Hager, the widowed mother of State Auditor S. W. Hager, died at her home in Salyersville Friday morning after an illness of 12 days from pneumonia. She was 68 years of age. Auditor Hager, who is also chairman of the democratic state campaign committee, was called to her bedside last Monday, and he was with her when the end came. The funeral will take place Sunday. The death of Auditor Hager's mother constitutes a sad coincidence in the campaign, as his father died during state campaign of 1903.

THE MINE BURNING

Terrific Explosion in a Shaft of the Rocky Mountain Fuel and Iron Co.

DEAD NUMBER BETWEEN 30 AND 60

The Deadly Fumes Overcame the Rescuers But Their Places Were Immediately Taken by Others.

The Mine Was Opened Only Last Year and Extended 2,000 Feet Into the Hill—Explosion Probably Caused By Dust.

Trinidad, Col., Oct. 29.—A terrific explosion occurred at Mine No. 3 of the Rocky Mountain Fuel and Iron Co. at Terolo, 40 miles due west of Trinidad, Friday afternoon and the number of dead is variously placed between 30 and 60 men. The exact number of dead may never be known, as the mine is burning and in all likelihood the bodies will be cremated.

United States Government Inspector F. J. Foreman was at Terolo when the explosion occurred. He returned here Friday night and gives the following account of the affair:

"I was standing not more than 200 yards from the mouth of the tunnel when the explosion occurred. The explosion was preceded by a low rumbling sound, resembling an earthquake which made the earth tremble and startled the whole camp."

"I looked toward the mine and out of the mouth of the tunnel and two air shafts came a great volume of smoke and dust, which continued for nearly a minute. Out of the two air shafts, each of which are seven feet in diameter, timbers that were fully from two to three feet in diameter were shot into the air and broken into splinters."

"Rocks were thrown over the camp for a distance of a quarter of a mile. In fact, it rained rocks, broken timbers and all kinds of debris for fully a minute and many people were injured by being struck with these missiles."

"Immediately after the explosion, which for all the world was like a volcanic eruption, caused the wildest excitement. Women, men and children rushed to the mouth of the tunnel and women whose husbands were in the mine had to be brought away by miners to keep them from being killed by deadly fumes coming from the mouth of the tunnel."

"The mine in which the accident occurred works 80 men, and it is believed that at least 60 men were in the mine at the time. News of the explosion brought assistance from the adjacent camps and hundreds of men are trying to get into the mine. Deadly fumes overcome the rescuers frequently, but their places are immediately taken by others ready to risk their lives. It is not thought possible that any of one in the mine can escape death if they are not dead already."

"The mine was opened only a year ago and extended 2,000 feet into the hill. The explosion is supposed to have been caused by dust. But one body has been recovered, that of T. Duran, a driver, who was just entering the tunnel when the explosion occurred. He was torn and burned almost beyond recognition. All mines within a radius of 20 miles have been shut down and the miners are on the way to assist in reaching the bodies."
